

CAPE
COD

VIEW™

Lifestyles of the Cape & Islands

Sailing into the Season

Decorating with Nautical Flair

Bill Koch's Nudes

*By Modigliani,
Matisse and Picasso*

Scintillating
Rhythms

15 Places to Hear Hot and Cool Jazz

November/December 2005 $4.95

THE VIEW AROUND TOWN

RED SOX HEROES, CELEBRITIES AND A GLITTERING CROWD TURNED OUT FOR "BOOGIE ON LOW BEACH" ON NANTUCKET, A BENEFIT FOR DANA-FARBER CANCER INSTITUTE AND NANTUCKET COTTAGE HOSPITAL.

Above: Standing a head above the crowd is former Red Sox star pitcher Jim Lonborg, now a dentist. With him, from left, are dentist Bob Jung; Jimmy Fund volunteer Rosemary Lonborg; and Suzanne Fountain, director of the Jimmy Fund at Dana-Farber Cancer Institute.

Television anchor and reporter Natalie Jacobson, left, was master of ceremonies for the event. With her is Danielle DeBenedictis, owner of The Summer House hotel in Siasconset.

Above: From left, Congressman Bill Delahunt; George Cloutier, benefit host and CEO of American Management Services; and Larry Lucchino, president and CEO of the Boston Red Sox.

Left: Tiffany Spadafora, who co-hosted "Boogie on Low Beach" with George Cloutier at their Siasconset home.

Alan Costa, general manager of Miacomet Golf Course, and Kathy Costa, director of membership services at Nantucket Golf Club. Alan is a cancer survivor and was one of the evening's honorees.

Right: Tom Kershaw, chairman and CEO of Hampshire House Corporation; and George Regan, president of Regan Communications Group.

Photos by Kinsley Hancock
Photography